second-class matter. Terrific Explosion. Shortly before half-part three o'clock yesterday afternoon a terrific explosion, occurred in front of the Poole flour mill, in Rochester, N. Y. The explosion was felt for a long distance, and only a few seconds after the first explosion, another fellowed, and another, and another, in rapid succession. Instantly, flames burst from the Poole mill, and the rear walls fell in. The fire burned with great fury, and although the workmen hastened to get out, it is feared some must have perished in the flames. It was only a few minutes before the Washington mill, adjoining the burning structure, was also on fire. One of the workmen jumped from the third story of the Poole Steam Flooring & Planing Mill

Or more breaks in the line allowed the or more breaks in the line allowed the naphtha to escape into the adjoining sewers. When the sewers became surcharged with the gas it escaped into the mills and ex-ploded there or elsewhere, and made its way through the mains in the middle of the streets, throwing out the manhole covers and tearing up the roadways. The amount of the damage cannot be calculated at pre-sent. Two or three of the finest mills in the city, with their contents, are doomed, and several streets and sewers are more or less damaged. In the vicinity of the fire, and up Mill and State streets, as far as Market street, a distance of about three quarters of s mile, people were running in every direction, and frequent explosions terrified them the more. The explosions continued at such frequent intervals for the first balf bour that the people were deterred from getting anywhere near the fire. Women and children were running around crying and screaming, think-ing their brothers, husbands or other rela-ives were in the mill and had been burned.

It is not known how many persons were at work, or how many escaped. One man was seen to jump from the second story window of one of the buildings to the river bank bebelow, a distance of fifty feet. His right leg was broken and be received internal injuries. The walls of the J. Herson mill fell in about four o'clock, and it is feared there are several men buried under them. The ELEVEN SAILORS LOST .- The freight steamer San Vincente, plying between San Francisco and Santa Cruz, took fire Tuesday night off Pigeon Point, about orty miles south of the Golden Gate, and burned to the water's edge. The craw consisted of ninsteen officers and men. The burning vess I was signed by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Queen of the Pacific. which was bound from San Diego to S n Francisco. Several boats were is wered at d went to the rescue of the San Viocinte's crew. Captain Charles Lewis and second mate were found on the deck of the steam er prepa ing to jump into the sea, as the flames rapidly surrounded them. The first mate and four sailors were found drifting in a small boat in which they had escaped, and another sailor was discovered clinging to the bottom of an uptured boat. The men were all rescued and taken on board the Queen of the Pacific. Several had suffered severely from exposure, and one of the sailors died in a few hours. No trace could be found of the other eleven men who composed the crew, and it is supposed they were all lost. Captain Lewis stated that when fire was discovered, the men became panic-stricken. Most of them jumped into one of the boats, and before it could be lowered, the tackle which held it burned away and the boat fell, throwing the men into the water. The San Vincente was a small steamer, owned by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, and was valued at $30,000. No insurance. Loss on cargo light.
